Supervisors seek grant for property improvement

BY JANET MCQUEEN
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors gave the green light Thursday to a Greenwood firm to prepare a Community Block Development Grant proposal to improve residential property in the county. Gregory and Associates will complete the application for $500,000 in funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development at no cost to the county, said board president Ronald Cuevas.

County budget shrinks while salaries increase

BY JANET MCQUEEN
Hancock County employees will find their paychecks approximately $300 higher this year, as the board of supervisors unveiled the proposed budget at Thursday's meeting. Some 152 full-time employees will receive the across-the-board raise, which the board felt was the equitable way to handle the increase with the available funds. No millage increase is planned with the adoption of the $12,683,793 budget, which is approximately $1 million less than last year's, according to comptroller Ken Walker. The 1991 budget reflected a millage increase to pay for workman's compensation, according to board president Ronald Cuevas. Increases this year were shown in the Lunacy Court budget, from $50,000 to $75,000, and in the Coroner's budget, where legislation has provided for increased fees for inquests. "I would like to express appreciation to our department heads for working with the board," said District 1 Supervisor Robert Peterson. "They have to bear the burden of responsibility when it comes to cutting back," agreed Cuevas.

RECREATION DEPT.
"This is outstanding for the people in the county," said District 5 Supervisor Mike Ladner. E. J. Marengo, representing the Hancock County Park Commission.

Walking on the wind

Gulfport author weaves tale of mystery in the mountains

BY TRACI BONNEY
Autobiography, a strong faith and a love of mystery stories are richly woven together in an inspiring book called The Windwalker, by Anne Long. Long, a Gulfport resident, has taken diverse elements and qualities and created a literary tapestry worthy of the people and setting that inspired her story. Set in the Great Smoky Mountains, the book deals with the unexplained disappearance of a woman who had been abandoned by her husband in their isolated cabin. Miami society matron Joey O'Clair is left alone when her husband leaves with another woman. Joey is terrified of her surroundings and the possible dangers inherent in them, but finally dares to venture out of the cabin. On her way back to the cabin, she suffers a fall and sustains a head injury. Someone finds her, takes her back to the cabin and nurses her back to health, but leaves her there. Joey begins a search for her mysterious benefactor (whom she calls the Windwalker), upsetting many of the mountain folk with her sudden change in behavior, but befriending many others. The story of her fall, recovery, search and disappearance are framed within another story, that of Joey's son's quest for the

City school trustees accept annual budget

BY TRACI BONNEY
With little fanfare, the Bay St. Louis-Waveland school board accepted the amended 1990-1991 school year district budget Monday. The four-member board (James Wilcox was absent) unanimously accepted a budget of $7,909,060 for the previous year, a downward adjustment of $96,096 from the $8,005,156 figure approved last summer. District business manager Garland Cuevas said the amended figure more closely reflects what was actually spent during the year.

The board also accepted the annual review report of the district's five-year plan. The report updates the status of those objectives not implemented during the 1990-1991 school year. About a dozen objectives were removed from the plan because they were found to be infeasible or ineffective. Others were earmarked for study, budgeting and implementation in the upcoming year. One objective, to work toward a 20/1 student/teacher ratio in the third grade, was almost dropped from the plan because of district employment of aides for third grade teachers, as well as enrollment changes and state budget cuts. However, trustee Charles

Bay PD installs Hotline telephone

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
The Bay St. Louis Police Department now offers a Crime Hotline telephone number for area residents. The hotline may be reached at 255-6234. Police Chief Frank McNeil said, "The installation of this new service is to enable residents to call in and remain anonymous if they so desire. They may report any tips which may be of value to police in helping solve a crime or possible crimes." "All information received will be investigated," McNeil added. McNeil reported that if information received is outside of the Bay St. Louis Police department's jurisdiction, the information will be passed on to the proper authorities. Regular complaints should still be called in on the 467-9221 telephone number, McNeil said. "The Crime Hotline number is designed for anonymous tips only and will be mechanically answered and monitored on a regular basis. Callers will not receive an immediate response like the 467-9221 telephone number," McNeil added.

In Loving Memory
 of
JUDY TAILLAC

 Aug. 17, 1943
 Oct. 15, 1989

Jeanne was our No. 1. Then came Jackie, and we thought we were done.

But then we heard from God up above.

Louise and Roland, this will be your last bundle of love.

Her name will be Judy, and she will be a beauty.

With black, shiny hair and skin that was fair.

She will mother one daughter and be friends with many others.

Then came Oct. 15, your mother's birthday.

Yes, the day God called you away.

Oh how I remember the day you were born, and on my birthday you will always be gone.

So, daughter, as I look up above, I know you know you are loved.

And I also know you are not alone, because shortly after you left, God called your Daddy home.

Love,
 Mother and Family

Saturday morning begins with three fires, no injuries

BY TRACI BONNEY

Three early morning fires Saturday gutted two houses and damaged a third, but caused no injuries, according to county Fire Marshal Jay Marsh.

At about 12:40 a.m. Saturday, a vacant house on Anner Road in Lee Town was destroyed. The cause has not yet been determined.

"We're still looking at that one," Marsh said. "That house is nothing but ashes now."

Less than an hour later, around 1:30 a.m., the home of Charles Robert Rutledge on Wyoming Street was totally burned down. The family was at home but escaped safely thanks to their fire alarm, Marsh said.

The cause of that fire is also under investigation.

The third one occurred around 8 a.m., at the residence of Ralph T. Hall on Firetower Road. No one was at home at the time.

Marsh said the living area was fire damaged and the rest of the house sustained smoke damage. According to a preliminary report, an electric iron left on a sofa may be the cause of the fire.

All three cases are still under investigation, Marsh said.

Coast Mosquito Control Commission requests equine encephalitis reports

BY TRACI BONNEY

Local veterinarians and animal clinics are urged to report all confirmed cases of eastern equine encephalitis to the Gulf Coast Mosquito Control Commission.

By being informed of the locations of the cases, the commission can schedule treatment of those areas to lessen the severity of the problem.

Numbers to call are: Harrison County — 864-6373; Hancock County — 467-5042.

Commission director Sue Zuhlke said two disease-related horse deaths and two other confirmed cases of equine encephalitis have been reported so far in Hancock County.

Zuhlke said the cases in Hancock County have been so widely spaced geographically that the commission is spraying the entire county.

The disease is also known as sleeping sickness, and is carried by birds and transmitted by mosquitoes. It is nearly always fatal to horses and is fatal to humans in about half the cases.

Precautions against the disease include:

Horses — immunize twice a year; spray and fog barns with insecticide.

People — avoid going outside at night; if you do go out after dusk, wear pants and long-sleeved shirts; and use insect repellent.

"People should try to stay inside during the times of the mosquito's highest activity level, generally from 4 p.m. to 11 p.m.," Zuhlke said.

answer to her whereabouts. Her son, Robert O'Clair, hires a private detective from Atlanta to find Joey or discover what happened to her.

The detective's assignment brings him in contact with many people, including a retired professor who is researching UFO phenomena, a dying mountain woman and her two sons, and a storekeeper and his wife who are dealing in drugs and illegal whiskey.

The story of the Windwalker is told in true mystery fashion: the reader must reach her own conclusion about who the Windwalker is and what became of Joey O'Clair.

Long says the story is partly autobiographical: she and her husband were living in an isolated cabin for a while in 1980, and her husband had to attend to some business in Texas, leaving Long alone in the cabin.

She says she underwent some of the same spiritual and mental changes chronicled by Joey O'Clair in her journal, which the detective gains possession of during his search for her.

Long commented, "The book fermented for 10 years before I began writing it. I didn't want to write that book, but something kept telling me to do it."

A retired teacher, she holds a master's degree and 27 units in creative writing from the University of Southern Mississippi. She had a number of short stories published and another book sold to a publisher before The Windwalker was published.

Unfortunately, the company that bought Long's other book went broke before the book, The Other Mrs. Wingate, could be published.

Long was teaching in San Antonio at Palo Alto College when she started The Windwalker, but had retired before she actually wrote it.

The book employs many literary techniques, including a symbolism reminiscent of that in Hannah Haunard's Hind's Feet on High Places, John Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress or the Bible's Song of Solomon.

Long says she chose the mystery genre for the story because it is the one she enjoys most.

"Mystery stories are among the few types where you find any real plot these days," she explained.

As for the title of The Windwalker, Long says she took it from Psalm 104:3:

Who lays the beams of his chambers in the waters; who makes the clouds his chariot; who walks upon the wings of the wind.

The book, published by Covenant House Books, is available at Bookends on Hwy. 90.

Arbor Day Foundation offers free dogwoods

Ten free white flowering dogwood trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during August.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

"The white flowering dogwoods will add year-round beauty to your home and neighborhood," said John Rosenow, the foundation's executive director. "Dogwoods have showy spring flowers, scarlet autumn foliage and red berries which attract songbirds all winter."

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between March 1 and May 31 with enclosed planting instructions. The six- to 12-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to: Ten Dogwoods, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Aug. 31.

School board

Benvenuti asked that the board retain that objective and earmark it for study and planning. The board agreed to his request.

PERSONNEL

The board accepted two resignations and a number of hiring recommendations, and granted an emergency certificate.

After accepting resignations for cafeteria worker Melissa Moran and elementary school teacher Danita Lauttrell, the board approved Superintendent Robert Magee's recommendations to hire the following:

Marco Boyer, music teacher; Mary McDougal, Chapter 1 teacher; Dianne Karliner, teacher assistant; Helen Kidd and Barbara Landry, Chapter 1 technicians—parochial school; James Collins, teacher/coach; teachers Renee Hutto and Margie Mills; Holly Salters, teacher/special education; Sandra Watkins, teacher/Chapter 1; teacher assistants Margie Schmitt and Dianne Perkins; cafeteria worker Linda Fouquet; regular bus drivers Roy Miller, Donna Miller, Royce Peters, Michael Bowser, Alfred Sheppard, Frank Perniciaro, David Porter, Scott Nelson, Bea Gallegos, Joseph Hall, David Jenkins, Pat Strong, Jackie Bryant, Kim Perniciaro, Roger Price, Grady Willis, Jon Blanchette and Taryn Prejean; substitute and activity drivers Billy Adams, Anthony Escandell, Rocky Gaudin, Walt Esslinger, Stace McRaney and Joe Shaw; and janitor/substitute driver Sean Lotz.

OTHER BUSINESS

The board approved July 8 and 29 meetings minutes; the July claims docket; student transfers; transfer of funds from minimum program to district maintenance; an audit proposal from Gulfport firm Wright, Ward, Hatten and Guel; a request to sell two old school buses that had been stripped for parts; a list of three sole source suppliers for Chapter 1 materials; the issuance of short term notes to purchase two new school buses; the acceptance of bids; and the rejection of a bid because the item bid on wasn't the item needed.

Friends of Bay St. Louis member Bill Eslick asked the board trustees to contact State Gaming Commission Royal Walker Jr. and express their concerns regarding the effect of dockside gambling facilities on the local schools.

He reminded the board that traffic to Bay Cove Harbour will have a direct effect on Bay High School and an indirect effect on North Bay Elementary School.

Board president Linda Penrose told Eslick the board does not intend to state any opinion as a unit regarding dockside gambling, but she agreed that individual board members can contact Walker.

The board adjourned to 7 p.m. September 9.

We wonder if the Bay officials ever thought of this

We wonder if anyone ever thought of the possibility of another park in Bay St. Louis.

Right off we are sure some folks are saying, "There just isn't any property available for a venture like this."

A possible suggestion would be the late Ms. Ruth Cazeneuve's property on Main Street across from the Knights of Columbus Hall.

We do not know who owns the property currently, but now may be a good time for Bay St. Louis officials to research the possibilities.

As you drive down Main Street, take a few minutes to pause and view the majestic live oaks, pines, magnolias and other trees.

Just dreaming what a beautiful park could possibly come to life in the middle of Bay St. Louis!

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Members of the Hancock County Exchange Club have for years displayed American flags about the area for many celebrations.

The most recent occasion was for the return of the 1355th, and it was good to see the many American flags flying from the numerous utility poles along the route.

Now the flags have been purchased by the Exchange Club through donations from the area's merchants and some individuals.

One of the problems it seems the Exchange Club has, is the number of flags which are moved and cannot be found by the club's members when they collect them.

The president of the Exchange Club reports some 20 flags are missing just from the recent display.

This is very frustrating as it takes time and effort on the part of the Exchange Club members to seek the funds to purchase the flags in addition to a lot of effort to get up early in the morning and display them.

I guess people steal everything else, so stealing an American flag doesn't bother them either.

Bay police commended by stranded motorist

Dear Editor,

While taking one last vacation trip to the Gulf Coast with my family before school began, I had the misfortune of having my car break down. Although no one ever enjoys this sort of thing, I am grateful that it happened.

I was most fortunate that it occurred in Bay St. Louis, a town which I have passed through many times. I had never spent any time there before, and this never got to know any of your people.

My treatment while there was friendly, courteous, helpful and refreshing. I was not on the roadside long when one of the police officers came to see if he could assist.

In a day when we are seeing the brutality of the mid city police departments and the bad publicity of some police officers, my faith was restored in your fine police department.

The three police officers whom I encountered were most helpful and very friendly. They are to be commended for their professionalism.

Everywhere I turned I was offered friendly help. I wish to express my appreciation to the people of your community.

I have traveled a lot through-out this country and have never found a more friendly people.

I look forward to my next trip to Bay St. Louis, and this time I will be staying there instead of passing through.

Sincerely yours,
Ray J. Marcel

Redefining wetlands

I have joined a number of my Senate colleagues to attempt to legislate reasonable regulations that will protect both our valuable wetlands and the rights of property owners. Mississippi is rich in wetlands and we must determine the best way to harmonize economic growth with environmental concerns.

What is considered a "wetland" has drawn much debate. Most thoughts of wetlands conjure up images of a Mississippi bayou, a Florida marsh or a Louisiana swamp bottom, complete with herons and ducks flying and feeding amongst the endless reeds and grasses. However, federal regulators have defined wetlands quite differently in section 404 of the Clean Water Act.

Section 404's definition of "wetlands" includes every flat piece of land within 18 inches of a water table. This description is too broad and has unfairly caused personal hardship for many landowners.

The definition has been stretched quite a bit beyond what I believe Congress intended. New guidelines are needed to redefine what types of land are considered wetlands and hence protect the interest of the conservationist, developer and private landowner.

The Wetlands Conservation and Management Act of 1991, which I am co-sponsoring, is designed to correct current guidelines. It broadens the existing definition under the Clean Water Act to include specific activities that are destructive to some types of wetlands; narrows the jurisdictional scope of the program to regulate wetlands; and divides wetlands into three categories.

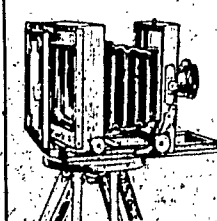

The three categories are: highest—lands more strictly regulated than under today's program; middle—lands treated similarly under today's programs; and lowest—essentially unregulated lands.

Some of the problems with Section 404 which the Wetlands Conservation and Management Act corrects include: it fails to cover certain activities, such as draining and channeling, that are destructive to wetlands; it incorporates lands (often privately owned) that are only marginally wet; it is unduly restrictive and inflexible; it creates a needless maze of bureaucracy that private citizens and local governments must contend with; and it fails to provide incentives and flexibility to encourage private landowners and wetlands users to act responsibly and invest in wetlands restoration, enhancement and preservation.

The current regulations punish some landowners just because of the soil mixture of their property even though the land is clearly not wetlands. It denies them the right to develop or fully use their property. Congress never intended the Clean Water Act to do this.

The Wetlands Conservation and Management Act will protect landowners from three or more year waits for building permits and endless legal costs, and at the same time more aggressively address the conservation of true wetlands.

If encourages state programs to protect wetlands, unifies Army Corps of Engineers programs and sets up a test for determining if a 404 permit should be issued for covered activities in the middle category of wetlands.

Hancock County School Board Attorney Joseph Gex informed board members Saturday that a new law passed by the state legislature could greatly effect the amount of budget increases the board expects for the 1981-82 school year. The law, according to Gex, allows budgets to increase a maximum 10 percent and is figured on all general revenue received by the school district.

A new Hancock County oil and gas well drilling operation is scheduled to begin this week and another is slated late Fall. Penrod Drilling Co. in a few days will begin drilling another wildcat near the Catahoula Community for Hunt Energy Corp. of Jackson.

Allied Equipment got the portable plant, storage tank and a used asphalt finisher at $74,498 while Mississippi Road Supply Co. got the remaining $28,519 for a roller and pay loader.

Nine hundred and twenty pounds of discarded aluminum ware is the amount collected in the public deposit bin, on the lot east of the post office building. This is considered quite a bit, considering the light weight of aluminum. There were many pots and pans and other forms of the metal that is now so vitally needed for defense. This campaign was conducted under auspices of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, with the Mayor and City Commissioners as a board cooperating.

The Catahoula Consolidated School of Hancock opened August 1, 1941, with the largest enrollment it had in five years. Mr. E.C. Lumpkins who has been principal for the past three years is again head of the school with Miss Irene Mitchell as assistant. The girls 4-H Club held its first meeting for the purpose of electing officers. The following officers were elected to serve the club this year: Beatrice Dossett, president; Bertha Lee Bounds, vice-president; Dorothy Cuevas, secretary; Bernice Cuevas, treasurer; and Jackie Roberts, reporter.

St. Stanislaus at the Bay is again fortunate in securing Foster Commagere as director of athletics for the coming season. Coach Commagere did splendid work for this institution last year, practically putting it upon the Athletic Map. With St. Stanislaus Commagere attained his greatest success in athletics. No prep-school has ever accomplished in these parts what St. Stanislaus did in 1915-16. This was S.S.C.'s first year in athletics and they won hands down the Southern Championship in baseball and basketball and defeated with ease every school in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama in track meets and all this with men who had never taken part in athletic before, with the exception of Nathan Tyner. In Tyner, St. Stanislaus has by far the greatest all around athletic in Dixie. In track he is not only Southern A.A.U. Champion hammer thrower, but is as good as they come in the high jump, broad jump, and 56-lb. weight. In basketball, he is recognized by all experts as the best center in Dixie and any class and in football, he is as good as they make them. In four years coaching colleges, Commagere's teams have never lost a single game of baseball or basketball to any other prep-school in the South.

It is a wonderful construction, yet very plain and simple, and likely to be popular. It was brought by Grant & Jung, and it is on exhibition in their store. It is a bicycle with two seats abreast. The general features are the same as those of a first-class, high-grade wheel. It is supposed that the new invention will be most popular for the young man and his girl.

Peterson seeks fourth term as sheriff

Ronald Peterson

Ronald A. Peterson, 47, of Bay St. Louis recently announced his intention to seek re-election as county sheriff.

A graduate of Bay High School, he attended Pearl River Junior College and is a graduate of the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers Training Academy. He also is a graduate of the University of Mississippi Drug Seminar and the Law Enforcement Administration Jail Seminar.

He has attended several law enforcement-related seminars during his 20 years in law enforcement.

Peterson, who is seeking his fourth term as sheriff, began working in the sheriff's department in 1972 as a narcotics officer. From 1975 to 1979, he served as chief deputy for the department, before being elected sheriff in 1979.

His military service includes four years in the U.S. Marine Corps, one of which was in Vietnam. He was honorably discharged from the service and highly recommended for re-enlistment.

He also served in the Mississippi National Guard for five years.

Peterson is a member of the American Legion, the VFW, Mississippi Sheriff's Association, National Sheriff's Association, Hancock County Lawmen's Association, Waveland Civic Association, St. Stanislaus Sideline Club, Hancock County Lions Club, the Marine Corps League and the Shamrockers.

He is a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, and has been married to the former Darlene King for 23 years. They have two children, Ronald II and Wendy Lynne.

Peterson said he wants to continue serving the county as he has for the past 12 years as sheriff. "I will continue to put all my efforts to make Hancock County a better place to live."

Survey to identify beach hazards

A survey, aimed at making Mississippi's coastline safer and more beautiful is under way, and you can help.

Robert Seal, with the Louisiana Geological Survey under contract with the BMR, is gathering information to identify and locate derelict structures and other hazards along 32 miles of Mississippi coastline. The survey will extend 1,000 feet into the Mississippi Sound.

The survey is scheduled for completion in September. When it's completed, Seal will hand his report into the Coastal Management Section of the Bureau of Marine Resources along with an estimate of the cost of removing the obstacles.

Jerry Mitchell, BMR coastal program manager, said the coastal management staff will review the report and determine which obstacles should be removed. The removal will be paid for, in part, with a federal grant for low-cost construction aimed at providing the public with greater access to the water.

The grant funds may be matched with city and county funds for each project.

Seal will identify anything that poses a hazard, interferes with the public enjoyment of the beach or creates an eyesore such as broken culverts, rotting pillings, derelict piers, riprap and large pieces of marine debris. The objects may be submerged or partially submerged.

The public can help in the survey by reporting in writing the locations of hazardous or derelict structures in the 1,000-foot area. These reports may be mailed to: Derelict Structures, Bureau of Marine Resources, 2620 Beach Blvd., Biloxi, MS 39531.

mission, requested former director Hilda Bourg's red pickup truck be transferred from the recreation department to McLeod Park. He also asked approval for park ranger Alton Lumpkin's salary to be increased to $15,000, upon completion of a 60-day period. Both matters received unanimous approval.

E. HANCOCK FIRE DEPT. Ethel Breaux, spokesman for East Hancock Volunteer Fire Dept., petitioned the board for $2,250 to cover replacement of items stolen in a June robbery. The amount, representing the deductible owed to the insurance company, was approved.

ARCHITECT'S REPORT Architect Michael Reeves reported the new Shoreline Park voting building would be completed in time to be used for the September primary election.

Contractor GM&R was granted final payment of $29,994.50 for completion of the Human Services Complex, after Reeves expressed satisfaction with the project. A request for the check to be manually drawn was denied.

An additional bill from GM&R was submitted for work on a water line in the new Health Department building, which was clogged with sand. Reeves said the contractor was unable to fix the blame on the City of Bay St. Louis, whose crews connected the 8-inch water line to the building on a sub-contractor, who said the lines were clean.

Approval to pay the claim was reluctant, although unanimous, as Cuevas reminded the board that the work was authorized at an earlier meeting.

The basketball courts at Fenton were discussed, with Ladner claiming work remains to be done by Lagniappe Construction. Reeves maintained $600 of their final payment had been withheld pending the painting of the courts.

DILAPIDATED BRIDGE A bridge traversing a drainage ditch off Henry Shubert Road off Hwy. 90 east of Hayward Spiers Auto Repair was said by Keith Moran to be in dire need of repair.

Moran and his family appealed to the State Highway

Dept., with whom his grandfather had a verbal agreement to maintain the bridge, and was denied.

Board attorney Gerald Gex advised Moran to file suit against the Highway Department to settle the matter, as drainage along Hwy. 90 is affected.

MAINTENANCE Sam Cuevas reported Waste Management increased charges for disposal to $20 per ton, within the 5 percent increase they are allowed by contract.

The board accepted a bid by Waste Management for disposal of asphalt at $45 per ton over that of BFI, whose bid of $25 per ton carried a one-time $69 fee for analyzing the material.

Bennett seeks re-election as West District constable

Gary Lynn Bennett, Hancock County constable, West District, has announced his candidacy for re-election in the Democratic primary Sept. 17. Bennett, 39, is employed as a support technician for Sverdrup Technology Inc. at Stennis Space Center. He is a life-long resident of Pearlinton and is the son of Blanche Bennett of Pearlinton and the late Joseph E. Bennett. He is married to the former Cheryl Nettles and has two daughters, Jamie and Jackie.

Bennett is a past master of the Masonic Lodge in Pearl-ton and a member of the West Hancock Volunteer Fire Department.

He has served two four-year terms as constable of Hancock County. Since becoming constable, he has joined the Mississippi Constables Association, National Constables Association and is a 1988 graduate of the Jackson Police Academy.

Bennett is an auxiliary deputy with the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and a designated officer of the United States Customs Service, Blue Lighting Operations, Gulfport. "I have served for eight years as your constable and have worked diligently to carry out the duties and responsibilities of the office you have elected me to," he said.

The constable is paid on a commission based on fees collected from summons and citations, therefore enabling the office to be self-sufficient. It incurs no burden on the taxpayers in Mississippi.

"If re-elected, I will continue to carry out the duties and responsibilities mandated for the office of constable and assist area law enforcement offices when called upon."

Sones seeks District 4 seat

Daniel Sones has announced his candidacy for District 4 supervisor.

Sones, a native of the Bayou La Croix community, has lived in Hancock County most of his life. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Sones, life-long residents of the community.

After graduating from Bay Senior High School, Sones earned a degree in business administration and biology at the University of Southern Mis-issippi in Hattiesburg. He is presently owner and operator of Daniel's Woodworks, a custom millwork shop.

He and his wife, Frances, have nine children: Angelique, Kimberly, Sarah, Danielle, Julie, Richard, Michael and twins Joshua and David.

In seeking the District 4 supervisor's seat Sones states, "I will listen to your concerns and complaints and work to improve drainage of roads and ditches. Paved roads are expensive, but they require less maintenance and increase the value of the taxpayers' property. I will work to pave as many of our roads as possible."

Sones said, "I will increase better control on our streets and roads so that our county will be a more enjoyable and beautiful place to live. Therefore, we can feel proud of our community, and others coming in the area will feel more welcome."

Blues festival set for Coast Coliseum

The Mississippi Coast has got the blues—thanks to the recently formed Mississippi Gulf Coast Blues Commission and the Mississippi-Coast Coliseum.

The two organizations have joined forces to bring some of the best blues performers in the country to the Coast for the first Mississippi Gulf Coast Blues Festival at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum Sept. 14.

The festival will feature 16 blues groups on two main stages; one in the Coliseum and one on the grounds.

Clarence Carter, Bobby Whalen, Jerry Fisher, Blues Boy Willie, Bryan Lee, Wet Willie, and the infamous Millie Jackson.

Winston Smith, president of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Blues Commission, says this will be the biggest blues event ever on the Coast.

"We formed the Blues Commission because we felt the Coast needed an organization to promote this musical art form, which evolved from the Mississippi Delta," said Smith.

"We are very excited to have this event at the Coliseum," added Coliseum Executive Director Bill Holmes. "It's the first event of its kind on the Coast, and we're excited about the potential for this festival to become a major tourism attraction on the Coast for many years to come."

In addition to blues performances, the festival will offer a great variety of food specialties, from Jamaican to Creole, plus arts and crafts exhibits.

'Sidewalk sailboats' guide walkers through downtown

Painting bright-blue sailboats on downtown sidewalks is almost complete, according to Mike Cuevas, Main Street-Bay St. Louis project manager. When finished the sailboats will guide walkers along a one-mile trek through the historic downtown area.

"The sailboats serve several purposes: One is to provide everyone a one-mile walking exercise track; the second is to number the boats in connection with a historic building brochure.

"The sailboats will guide walkers past each historical site and all commercial businesses in the Main Street primary project area. They were designed as a healthy, entertaining way to see changes and increase socialization."

The brainwashed generation

"We're unwittingly rearing a generation of 'different brains,'" says Jane Healy in her book, "Endangered Minds, Why Our Children Don't Think."

Drawing from the latest research into the neuropsychology of learning, the Cleveland State University adjunct professor explains how scientists believe that young brains are plastic and are therefore actually being programmed by TV.

Thus, their brain structures and the way they think are being altered by the electronic media's showcasing of racy lifestyles, shaky family patterns, and environmental and sociological problems.

This study is not telling us anything which we have not been thinking for a long time. Now, however, there is scientific evidence that the intellectual junk-food offerings of TV are ruining the mental initiative, imagination and overall mental capabilities of young, pliable minds.

Educational psychologists have established as much as a 20 percent decline in creativity in children and adults who are exposed to long hours of TV.

This is clearly a strong correlation of studies such as that by Dr. Brandon Centerwall, a psychiatrist who analyzed TV's role in crime and violence. All of us, of course, have read instances where someone committed a TV-inspired crime.

Jane Healy's thesis is highly credible because it gives us some answers which have escaped us thus far. For example, why are so many of today's children virtual zombies in the classroom? Why is their thinking bland and almost nonexistent?

Part of the answer is a matter of presentation, naturally.

Almost everything is presented in such a lively, interesting fashion on TV that an uninspired presentation in the classroom, or from the pulpit for that matter, will cause people to lose interest and drift off.

Nevertheless, poor presentation aside, a far deeper problem is obviously lurking between the television channels. If many of our children are being brainwashed, indeed literally reprogrammed by the TV babysitter in homes, day-care centers and schools, what effect can parents have on their formation?

There appears to be an even more serious problem than that one. Given an opportunity to mold their children, are the parents capable of doing so with competence?

Are the parents even interested in shaping the character of their children, or are they afflicted with the same TV-brainwashed syndrome?

Remember that the study found both children and adults lacking in creativity when exposed to long hours of TV.

A related question concerns almost everyone's propensity to imitate and perhaps act out at least certain things seen on television, as if TV were a role model for life. How often do we see people take TV lines and use them as their own?

The youngest of the next generation may be undergoing a radical reprogramming of their very brain cells, but adults do not seem to be very far behind in embracing the electronic role model. In effect, many parents who think they are in control of their children cannot control even themselves.

We need a grand awakening and we must move quickly, in an informed fashion, in unison and wisely in our homes, schools, churches and political halls to gain control of all this.

SENIOR CITIZENS HAPPENINGS

By Eve McDonald

REMEMBRANCE PROGRAM

The program continues on Monday morning at the Lobra-no House. The Hancock County Historical Society is really doing a super job of getting our history down on their computer plus making little books for those who bring in pictures and family history.

HOSPITAL SEMINARS

We really appreciate our local hospital for sponsoring programs for our senior citizens. Don't forget the "Vision of the Future" Friday, Aug. 23.

Dr. Allen Koskan will be presenting a very interesting discussion about your eyes and we know how important eyesight is. The time is 10-11:30 a.m. and it's free.

TRIPS

Tee Oliver and the seniors will be traveling again. Call her about the following trips, 467-9292:

Saints football games on Sept. 1 and 22 in New Orleans
Dog races in Mobile Sept. 9
Saints/Dallas in Dallas Dec. 7-9

Australia in January
All trips are tentative as she needs a bus load to go.
We will be closed Labor Day.

SHOPPING UP A STORM

By Katy
McGuire Caire

Almost as cooling on a steamy hot late-summer day as a burst of air conditioning (or, at least a help!) are cold and cooling melons. Fresh fruit, luscious and juicy ripe, is the very essence of summer.

And fortunately for food shoppers, our area supermarkets offer melons and other fresh fruit in abundance, at good prices. Watermelons and jumbo canteloupes, along with other varieties of melons, top the list for cooling solutions to the heat.

Watermelons and canteloupes, after all, are said to be 90 percent water, so it's almost like sipping cold water, except much more tasty! Those jumbo canteloupes (or smaller size) are just about ready-made containers for other fresh fruit, such as the peaches and plums and pears now crowding the fruit bins, along with the seedless grapes and nectarines and apples.

Cantaloupe halves are also fine containers for ice cream or sherbert or frozen yogurt, with or without other fruit; and mix well in salads. If you add a bunch of fresh spinach to your shopping basket you might want to combine canteloupe wedges or other fruit with the spinach, adding slices of onion for a quick green salad.

And, if you choose a turkey breast (they're a top bargain at the market) or chicken breast (also an excellent buy) you might want to add some grapes to the chicken salad you'll make from some of the leftovers. I like also to saute leftover turkey or chicken breast slices (or parts) in a bit of butter and white wine and add white seedless grapes at the last moment before serving—delicious!

Fresh fruit also marries well with pork and ham, and you'll find good buys in these cuts also at the markets. For a quick, cold summer soup, using canteloupe, try:

CHILLED MELON SOUP
1 medium canteloupe
1/2 cup white wine (or to your taste)
Sugar, approximately 1/2 cup; but adjust according to the sweetness of the melon
3 Tbsp. lime juice
Place all ingredients in a blender, and blend well. Serve very cold, garnished with chopped mint and lime slices. (4 small servings, easily doubled.) I have used other melons, such as honeydew, in place of canteloupe, with good results. This serves as fruit, soup and dessert.

From the pages of "Gourmet" magazine, comes this medley:
MELON, NECTARINE,
GRAPE AND PLUM
COMPOTE

1 1/4 -lb. piece of watermelon, scooped into 3/4-inch balls (4 cups, approx.)
1 canteloupe, scooped into 3/4-inch balls
Half of 1/2-lb. honeydew melon, scooped into 3/4-inch balls (3 cups, approx.)
2 plums, each cut into 6 wedges
2 nectarines, each cut into 8 wedges
2 cups green seedless grapes
1 Tbsp. sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
3 Tbsp. fresh lime juice
In a large bowl, combine the melons, plums, grapes and nectarines. In small bowl, stir together sugar, salt and lime juice until sugar and salt are dissolved, drizzle the syrup over the fruit, and toss the mixture gently until it is combined well. Chill the compote, covered, stirring gently once or twice, overnight. Serves 4 generously, easily.

Tomatoes, in profusion and good in price as well, are filling the bins—small, large, plum or cherry as you choose. Sprinkled with basil and pepper and a little olive oil, they're a treat. Combine with onions and cucumbers for a tasty salad—cucumbers are in good supply as well. I like to add bell (green) pepper slices as well; take a look at those huge peppers in the markets!

Don't pass up the avocados; they're tasty in dips and salads, as well as with main dishes; and serve as good edible containers for that chicken or turkey or tuna salad (tuna's a good buy just now).

I like to pare the avocados when I use them this way; and be sure to sprinkle with lemon juice to prevent darkening!

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

American Legion Auxiliary Post 77

The August 6 meeting was called to order at 7:30 by newly elected President Lee Ann Sauls. Earline Ruhr and Elaine Lytell advanced the colors.

All members recited the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the Auxiliary Preamble.

Chaplain Marry Caillier gave the opening prayer. Edie Wilhelm then played "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" on the keyboard, and members sang a chorus of special lyrics.

Special guests for the meeting were newly elected Post 77 Commander Ray Norton, Robert Crais, State Auxiliary 1st Vice President Lou Wilkerson, and Unit 58 member Jay Shaw of Standard. Since there was no July meeting, the various committee members had a lot to report.

President Sauls reminded all that Post 77 Auxiliary had only three Gold Star Mothers left. They are Agnes Ray of Waveland, Viola Lusich and Shirley Williams of Lakeshore.

Shirley Cox, Lee Ann Sauls and Mary Caillier conducted the solemn service of transferring the membership of the late Dorothy O'Farrell to Post Everlasting.

Heidi Klein, who was recently elected as State Sergeant at Arms in Tupelo, was once again put in charge of the very popular "Octoberfest". This event will be at the Post Hall on Coleman Avenue October 5, 5-11 p.m.

Other upcoming events include a party September 18 for veterans in Ward G of the Gulfport V.A. Facility.

In mentioning members who attended the state convention in Tupelo, Betty LaFontaine's name was inadvertently omitted. Our apologies to Betty.

After the closing prayer, the colors were retired and the meeting ended.

On Thursday, Aug. 8, members of Post 77 Auxiliary prepared all the ingredients for the many pounds of potato salad for the 1355th's dinner.

Among those working were Lee Ann Sauls, Shirley Cox, Pere Cabili, Catherine Schmitt, Gloria Norton and Isabel Crais. Men from Post 77 who helped were Edgar Sauls, Fred Schmitt and Robert Crais.

On Saturday, Aug. 10, the Hall doors were opened at 7 a.m. to admit the many helpers from Post 77, Post 139 and Post 58 Auxiliary.

Boy Scouts from Post 77 Boy Scout troupe helped with the beautiful red, white and blue decorations of flags and balloons.

While the men from Posts 77 and 139 were doing their cooking in the two kitchens, Auxiliary members of the two posts sliced French bread, wrapped forks and spoons, and set up the serving tables.

Among those from Post 139 Auxiliary of Bay St. Louis who helped with the preparations and serving were Lou Wilkerson, Hazel Wohlschlegel, Jackie Bufkin, Mattie North, Janey Aime, Bobby Tomlinson, Evelyn Burns, Shirley Piazza, Kathleen Sick, Genevieve Cole and Judy Gavy.

Auxiliary members from Standard were Betty Boudreaux, Ruby Lee Smith, Joy Shaw and Jenny Brokman.

Auxiliary members from Post 77 who served and helped in so many ways were Lou Scott, Shirley Cox, Mary Caillier, Lorraine Norton, Gloria Norton, Lee Ann Sauls, Catherine Schmitt, Billie Perkins, Nina Garcia, Eleanor Marsh, Helena Coleman, Antoinette Belser, Lucille Whittier, Mable Baumgartner, Tibby Thibodeaux, Catherine Scanlon, Isabel Crais, Francis Thomas, Theresa Fulford, Mayola Rotherham and Delores Mayant.

Jennifer Scanlon, Post 77 Auxiliary Poppy Girl, rode in the parade. Liz Bryant and Earline Ruhr carried the auxiliary colors.

Serving the food was a very enjoyable chore with the music of Side Trax, the house band of radio station WRPM of Poplarville, playing in the background.

Band members were Richard Palmisano on keyboards; Mike Dill, drums; Joe Gaines, bass; Gary Indovina, lead guitar; Karen Christy, female vocals; and Randall Scott, male vocals.

After the food was eaten, adults and children danced away the rest of the afternoon. As the members of the 1355th left, they thanked the post and auxiliary members and gave the "Victory" sign.

Library receives donation

The Hancock County Library System has received a donation of two books through the Mississippi Library Commission. The books, The Gordon Marks Collection of Historic Places in Mississippi and Jackson Executive Access, were made available to the state commission through private donations.

Sutton Marks, former chairman of Gordon Marks Advertising, a Jackson-based firm in operation from 1939 to 1989, published the Gordon Marks book in celebration of the agency's 50th anniversary. It includes a collection of art and essays that commemorates the anniversary and salutes his father and agency founder, Gordon Marks.

The book recognizes some of Mississippi's best artists and writers who worked at the agency. Its collection of art comes from the prints that were created each year for the annual Christmas card, a tradition that began in 1961.

Some of the historic places featured in the book include the Old Capitol in Jackson, Old Rodney's Presbyterian Church in Jefferson County, the Spanish Fort in Pascagoula, Ruins of Windsor in Claiborne County, Cedarhurst in Holly Springs, the Biloxi Lighthouse and many others.

Jackson Executive Access has been donated by Rebecca Pittman of Jackson. The book is a directory of key corporate, professional and governmental executives in Mississippi's capital city, Jackson.

More information on the books is available by calling the City-County Public Library at 467-5282.

The seventh and eighth grade teams and cheerleaders will be introduced at 5:30 p.m. with a short scrimmage to follow. The ninth through 12th

Gill netting hearing set Aug. 20

A public meeting to discuss the future of gill netting in Hancock County is scheduled for Aug. 20 at 7 p.m. in the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis.

The meeting will be conducted by the Bureau of Marine Resources, but is the result of a request by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors. The supervisors are asking that gill netting be banned in Hancock County.

This year, legislation, sponsored by Hancock County legislators, was passed allowing boards of supervisors to request changes, by July 31, in ordinances regarding gill netting in their respective counties.

Only the Hancock Board of Supervisors has requested a change in the gill-netting ordinance regarding its county.

Only proposed changes in the gill netting ordinance will be discussed at the meeting.

"For the best resolution of this user conflict it would be beneficial of both the supervisor and the commercial fishermen attend the meeting," said Tom Van Devender, BMR chief of saltwater fisheries.

Alternatives to an outright ban, suggested by Hancock commercial fishermen, also will be explored at the meeting.

After the meeting, the BMR fisheries staff will make a recommendation to the state Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks for any changes that are necessary.

Gulf Council sets hearings for changes in grouper quotas

Various management options concerning reef fish management are under review by the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council and will be presented at public hearings throughout the Gulf in August.

A five-year moratorium on the issuance of commercial reef fish permits is proposed. During the moratorium, permits could be transferable to maintain the current number of permits, or a reduction in permits could be affected through attrition by not allowing permit transfers.

Consideration is also given to combining the deep and shallow-water grouper quotas into an overall quota beginning in 1992. Another proposed action is to apply the same size and bag limits to both greater and lesser amberjacks due to the difficulty in identifying the two species.

Public hearings are scheduled to obtain public comments on this plan amendment. Copies of this amendment and the association Regulatory Impact Review may be obtained from the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council office, 5401 West Kennedy Boulevard, Suite 881, Tampa, Fla. 33609, 813-228-2815.

The public hearings will be held at the following dates and places beginning at 7 p.m.:

August 21: City Hall Auditorium, 300 Municipal Drive, Madeira Beach, Fla.

August 22: The Reach Hotel, 1435 Simonton Street, Key

West, Fla.

The Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council is one of eight regional Fishery Management Councils which were established by the Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act of 1976. The Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council prepares fishery management plans which are designed to manage fishery resources in the 200-mile limit in the Gulf of Mexico.

BHS sets dress codes

Bay High School dress and grooming codes are based upon certain sound foundations, not just arbitrarily selected and dictatorially enforced.

Laws surrounding indecent exposure, conditions necessitating safety and personal well-being, and health and sanitation are some of the basic fundamentals. Conditions conducive to learning must not be impaired because of temporary and individualized fads.

In order for students to be able to cope with even larger restrictions and responsibilities, they must learn while still in school to observe basic regulations set forth for the group as a whole.

These rules will be enforced and interpreted by the administrator of the school.

GIRLS

1. The length of the dress, skirt, culottes or shorts must not be shorter than three inches above the knee. Shorts that are raveled, tattered or ragged at the end of the legs are not permitted.

2. Shorts and pants type garments must be loose fitting. No bicycle, lycra or otherwise tightly fitted shorts or pants are allowed.

3. Cut-out, sun dresses, jumpers or tops with small straps are not to be worn without blouses. Low cut tops are not allowed.

4. Tops designed to be worn out must not exceed above the beltline when arms are raised.

5. Tube tops, torn clothing, open-sided, over-sized arm-holes, mesh or see-through clothing will not be allowed.

6. Conventional sweat shirts, sweat shirts with school or college emblems and football jerseys are allowed. Clothing with obscene or immorally suggestive printing are not allowed.

7. No obscene patches or patches immorally placed will be allowed on clothing.

8. Caps and hats are not to be worn inside the buildings. Hair cutters are not permitted for school wear. Hair should be kept neat and clean.

9. Sunglasses, colored glasses, or glasses other than prescription glasses are not to be worn inside the building.

10. Shoes are to be worn at all times.

11. Clothes should be neat and clean at all times.

12. Anything not covered in the above regulations that is distracting to either a teacher or student should be brought to the attention of an administrator who will determine if it is appropriate for school wear.

BOYS

1. Shorts must not be shorter than three inches above the knee. Shorts that are raveled, tattered or ragged at the ends of the legs are not permitted.

2. Shorts and pants must be loose fitting. No bicycle, lycra or otherwise tightly fitted shorts or pants are allowed. No sweat pants are allowed.

3. Boys are to be clean shaven with the exception of neatly trimmed moustaches. Hair is to be groomed and kept neat and clean.

4. Tops designed to be worn out must not extend above the beltline when the arms are raised. Shirts are to be buttoned to the first button below the collarline.

5. Tube tops, torn clothing, open-sided, over-sized arm-holes, mesh or see-through clothing will not be allowed.

6. Conventional sweat shirts, sweat shirts with school or college emblems, and football jerseys are allowed. Clothing with obscene or immorally suggestive printing is not allowed.

7. No obscene patches or

Keeping this total concept in mind and realizing a need to satisfy peer group desires for current fashions, the board will make an effort periodically to restructure the dress and grooming code according to current conditions.

All rules will be reviewed in the spring of each year by Student Council representatives, appointed faculty members and appointed parents. Recommendations

Stennis resumes Teacher Resource Center school-year schedule

While visiting the TRC, educators may review lesson plans and curriculum materials related to the space program or select educational publications that relate to such areas as life science, physical science, astronomy, energy, Earth resources, environment and mathematics.

In addition, teachers can find reference materials on NASA and Stennis Space Center as well as information on other state and federal agencies located at Stennis. Educational support materials, which are available to teachers at no charge, include booklets, pamphlets, wall posters, photographs and NASA fact sheets.

The TRC also has Apple computer disks, audio cassettes, video programs, and 35mm slides. Teachers can request copies from a selection of cassettes, slides or videos on subjects that include lectures by leading scientists on space-related topics for use in their classrooms. The videotapes range in length from five to 60 minutes.

In addition to the publications and support materials, NASA education specialists conduct in-service workshops for elementary and secondary teachers on such topics as aerodynamics, astronomy, space transportation, living and working in space and on NASA's history and ongoing program.

NASA lectures are also available to go into classrooms or school auditoriums to present educational programs.

The TRC welcomes school groups for informative field trips and maintains a full staff at Stennis ready to assist area educators.

For additional information about NASA's Teacher Resource Center materials or services, call 688-3338.

The TRC is located in the Visitors Center in Building 1200 at Stennis Space Center.

High school students learn about science, engineering at Stennis

Five area high school students were selected to participate this summer at NASA's Stennis Space Center in a national education program called Student High School Apprenticeship Research Program (SHARP).

Stennis is one of nine NASA centers across the country sponsoring SHARP students.

The purpose of the program is to stimulate broader interest by minorities in science and engineering careers and to establish individual working relationships between students and active researchers. SHARP also strengthens the efforts of private industry and the government to recruit and sustain minority students in science and engineering fields.

SHARP students learn and earn during an intensive eight-week period. During this apprenticeship, students carry out assignments, prepare written reports, make oral presentations and participate in a variety of supervised enrichment activities.

A key feature of the program is the assignment of a mentor who provides direct supervision and technical guidance. The mentor works to establish a relationship with the student that encourages a desire to pursue college-level programs leading to careers in science and engineering.

SHARP participants at Stennis this summer were Darren Cousin from Slidell High School; Noah Emmerson from Pass Christian High School; Callie Hall from Picayune, Mississippi School of Math and Science; Dionne Warnley from Picayune Memorial High School and Powtawche Williams from McMain Magnet High School, New Orleans.

Serving as mentors to the students were Gerald Pitolo, NASA Component Test Facility project manager; Marco Giardino, NASA education programs officer; Ronald Magee, NASA environmental officer; and Jay Rose, senior engineering associate at Sverdrup Technology Inc.
